About

Welcome to Stone Hedge

We are glad you made it here and ready to leverage the financial market!.

You are just few steps away from making more for yourself. Fidency Fx Trade is that financial company you need, that provides people with diverse but better opportunities to leverage the financial market at its peak and you are few steps to making much more for yourself. From stock market to cryptocurrency market, we have automated risk controls, trading bots and a technical plan unique to different users (which is depending on each user risk tolerance), to make profit of the market. We have a community where you can become closer to us and other users within the platform. You can lay complaints and provide related suggestions to the development team. We have a responsive 24/7 customer service that can provide you with the necessary information you need.

Sterling Legacy

Consulting company with strategy in business high growth

Stone Hedge has eight facilities that harness the power of Australia diverse energy sources

We are taking an innovative approach at our high-performance data centres – which run on hydro and nuclear power – to bridge between traditional and nascent high-performance computing infrastructure and capture growth in blockchain, AI, and Web 3.0.

Our digital asset mining centres mine efficiently using an abundance of renewable energy. We have industry leading power purchase agreements, and operate in climates with cold temperatures and high winds, which are optimal for mining.
